

What's cooking for the next Practical Pedagogy Workshop,
Co-Sponsored by WAC?

Food (PIZZA and Pie) for Thought (What's in your teaching mind!?)

You are invited to a P.I.E. (participant Idea Exchange) an interactive & tasty roundtable for writing teachers on Wed, September 16 at 1:00 PM in the Common Room (Engleman 253).

- Don't let your teaching brilliance shine in solitude!
- Don't let your concerns and problems be solved alone!
- Don't lose out on help from others who share your challenges!

You simply need to come and discuss one writing class issue/ activity/assignment/ or concern and our "pizza and pie" group will collaborate on ways to support, sharpen and share your ideas.

This gathering will be a comfortable place to discuss your teaching and learning ideas when confronting the challenges of writing and literacy at Southern. No talking heads-- just good teachers (YOU!) discussing how we teach writing and how our current resources can make our teaching lives tastier, easier (and sometimes even harder...).
