Toward Systematic Collaborative Peer Review and Response in the Writing Classroom

Join colleagues from across campus as we engage in a rousing discussion of how to get the power of peer review and response moving full steam ahead in our writing courses. Discussion will include: how, when, and why to engage in this important pedagogical endeavor; information on the variety of ways/methods of designing and conducting peer review; how to form groups/partners; various ways to give comments/feedback (including in digital and online writing environments); how to train students (including how to get students to take it seriously!); and methods to assess student performances.

Hot pizza and yummy chocolate will also be waiting for us 😊

When: Wed, Dec 2 from 1:00-1:45
