

Southern Connecticut State University
Blanche Bornemann Baldwin Scholarship Fund

The Blanche Bornemann Baldwin Scholarship Fund was established in 1996 by Blanche Baldwin in grateful acknowledgment and appreciation of the education she received at New Haven State Teachers College now Southern Connecticut State University. Mrs. Baldwin retired in 1989 after teaching 36 years in the West Haven School System and 29 of those were spent in the same elementary school in which she was educated as a child. The scholarship fund will be used to assist undergraduate students at Southern Connecticut State University who are preparing to be teachers.

Scholarship Criteria

- The student(s) must be a full-time undergraduate student as defined by the University and entering his/her junior or senior year.
- The student(s) must be majoring in Elementary Education.
- The student recipient(s) must be of high academic standing.
- The student(s) contributions to the University and/or the community will also be considered.
