“How Healthy is Long Island Sound” Boat Trip

Bring the whole family for this fun filled day of sun, sea and exploration! We'll meet at the Sound School Pier at 60 Water Street in New Haven at 12:00pm. The boat will be ready to board at 12:15pm for a two hour tour of Long Island Sound aboard the Island Rover.

Our able-bodied seamen for the day will be Captain Robert Boulware and his crew of seaworthy salts. Children and students are welcome on this exciting and informative tour of New Haven Harbor led by Dr. Vincent Breslin of SCSU's Center for Coastal and Marine Studies (pictured at right retrieving a ponar grab). What is a ponar grab, you may ask? Come find out aboard the Island Rover.

A box lunch with a drink will be available for $10, but a reservation for the trip is necessary for catering purposes and space is limited. Call Charlie at 203-392-6500 today for your reservation!

Southern Students Save Lives

Everyone who takes a CPR course or trains in an EMT class anticipates that first, real-life experience of being called upon to help save a person's life. For East Haven's Mary Canieso, a nursing major at Southern Connecticut State University, and Kimberly Foster, a liberal studies major with a concentration in public health and psychology, that life-saving test came earlier than they had ever expected. Mary and Kimberly were stationed in the emergency room at the Hospital of St. Raphael during an early morning shift last November as part of their required clinical work. Suddenly, an 80-year-old man who had been brought into the emergency room became unconscious in the examination room and went into full cardiac arrest. Rather than watch the doctors and nurses begin life-saving measures, Mary and Kimberly were asked by the on-duty emergency room administrator to initiate CPR.

"Mary and Kimberly did exactly what they were supposed to do in an unexpected, pressure situation," says David Putterman, an EMT and the instructor of the course at SCSU. "Everything they learned came to them during an emergency and that's a good sign for our students and our program."

"When you experience a human coming back to life and knowing you had a hand in that, there are no words to describe it," Foster said. "It's the kind of thing that I will be able to tell my children and grandchildren about one day."
