

Spring Courses 2009

Dr. Kathleen Skoczen

ANT 430-01W 42674

Global Women's Issues

W 07:35 pm-10:05 pm

Theories of globalization and feminist anthropology are used to examine how globalization affects the well-being and potential of women in the areas of work, reproduction, religion, leadership and activism. Prerequisites 6 credits in ANT/SOC/WMS and junior status. 3 credits.

ANT 530-1 40880

Women, Culture & Globalization

W 05:00 pm-07:30 pm

Interdisciplinary study of issues affecting women in cross-cultural perspective, such as international feminism, reproductive rights, health, global economy, women in leadership. Prerequisite: WMS 520 for students matriculated in program. No prerequisites for others. Scheduled every spring semester. 3 credits.

anthropology@southernct.edu