

*The Third Annual Long Island
Sound Seminar Series*

Wednesday March 29, 1-2 pm, Jennings 127

Metal Pollution Sources and Sinks for a Long Island Harbor and its Watershed

Dr. Gaboury Benoit
Professor of Environmental Chemistry
School of Forestry and Environmental Studies
Yale University

Wednesday April 12, 3:30-4:30 pm, Jennings 127

Invasive Sea Squirts in Long Island Sound: Cometh the Blob

Dr. Stephan Bullard
Asst. Professor of Biology
University of Hartford

Wednesday April 26, 1-2 pm, Jennings 127

Rising land and rising seas: the origin of Long Island Sound and early human settlements

Dr. Johan Varekamp
Harold T. Stearns Professor in Earth Sciences and Chair
Department of Earth & Environmental Sciences
Wesleyan University

Wednesday May 3, 1-2 pm, Jennings 127

Bivalve Pathology as an Indicator for the Health Status of Long Island Sound

Dr. Inke Sunila
Shellfish Pathologist
Bureau of Aquaculture
State of Connecticut Department of Agriculture

**The Third Long Island Sound Seminar Series is sponsored by the Center for Coastal and Marine Studies and is supported by an SCSU Faculty Development Grant.*