

Parent Orientation Schedule

Transfer Student Edition

Time	Event	Other information
9:00AM- 10:00AM Adanti Student Center 1st Floor	Orientation Registration and Continental Breakfast	We are excited that you are joining us for the first step in your student's university journey. Please sign in with our staff, pick up your packet of program materials, and mingle with staff and other parents.
10:00AM- 11:00AM Engleman Hall, A120	Rhythms of College Life	Dr. Ronald Herron, Vice President for Student and University Affairs, will lead this informal discussion about some of the common issues faced by parents/families and experienced by transfer students. Understanding your student in the social context of the differences between student and parent "generations" provides insight into how parents can meet the challenges that lie ahead and help support students in their transitions to the university.
11:00AM- 12:00PM Michael J. Adanti Student Center Third Floor, Ballroom	Parent Resource Fair and Lunch	You are invited to browse the Resource Fair. Representatives of university offices will provide informational materials about programs and services and answer your questions. Take a break from the Resource Fair and join parents of other new students for lunch.
12:00PM- 1:00PM Engleman Hall, A120	Telling It Like It Is	Academic and university life carries with it responsibilities and freedom. In a candid and open discussion find out what it means to become a member of the Southern community. Come prepared to ask your questions and to engage in a lively conversation about expectations—yours, theirs, and ours—and about our community's standards of social and academic conduct, FERPA, and more!
1:00PM- 2:00PM Engleman Hall, A120	Financing the Future	Paying for your student's education is an investment in their future! Key university personnel from the office of Student Accounts and Financial Aid will be present to provide important information and facilitate a discussion of helping students begin to assume responsibility for this important part of their lives, now and after graduation.

Thank you for attending!
