The Family Clinic at Southern Connecticut State University

The Family Clinic has been an important part of the Marriage and Family Therapy (MFT) Program since 1976 providing state of the art therapeutic services performed by graduate-level MFT students supervised by licensed marriage and family therapists.

A variety of services are available, including:

- Individual Therapy
- Couples Therapy
- Family Therapy
- Group Therapy
- Anger Management Programs
- Parenting Education Programs

In light of COVID-19, all clinic services will be performed remotely via teletherapy for client and clinician safety. We are offering services to first-responders and all other members of our Connecticut community at no cost for the duration of the COVID-19 crisis. On-site, in-person sessions will be available once the University reconvenes on-site operations. Costs for in-person sessions are set on a sliding fee scale based on financial need.
